The ENTRE NOUS

OF NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FORTY-FIVE
PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF
HOWARD COLLEGE - BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

DEDICATION

In Tribute to

DR. HUL-CEE M. ACTON

For in him we have found the embodiment of the ideals which make up the Christian Gentleman.

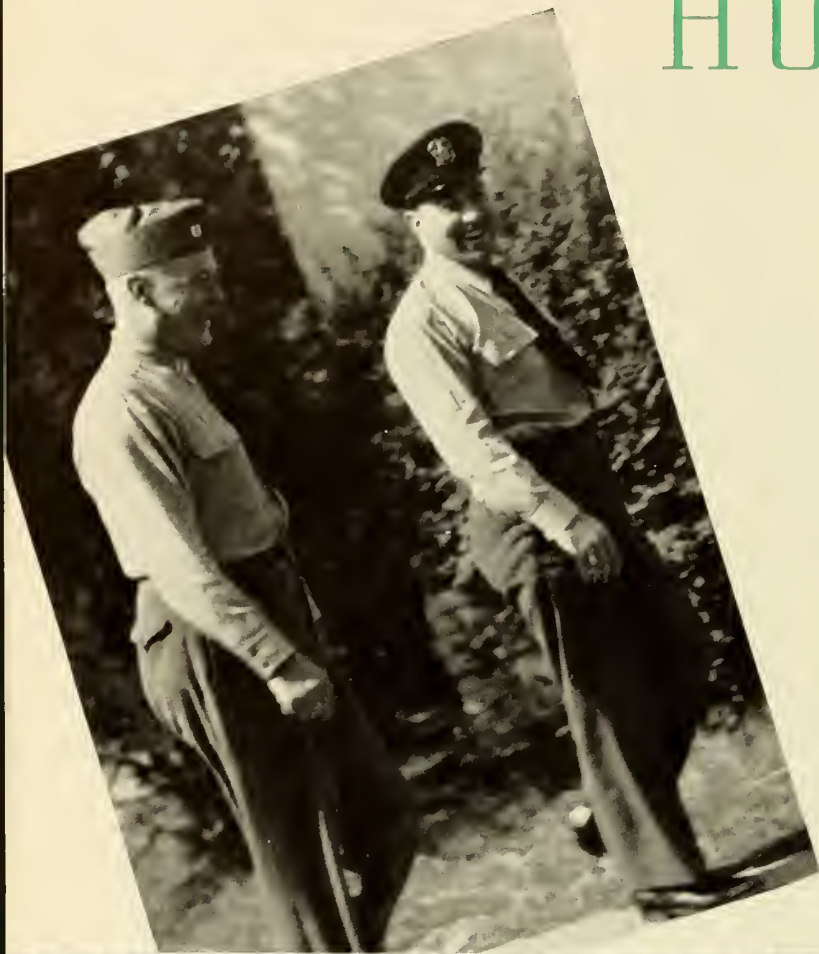

“For always having a smile of encouragement for the weary, and bringing laughter to the lips of the downcast; for having boundless patience with the slow of mind, and tolerance for the listless; for these and many other pleasant memories, which are indelible imprints in our minds, CHER PROFESSEUR, we shall ever be grateful”.

Because, through him we have glimpsed a vision of the Spirit that shall make men free, we lovingly dedicate this ENTRE NOUS to Dr. Acton.

HOWARD in

TO EDUCATE FUTURE OFFICERS
OF THE UNITED STATES
NAVY!

After 103 years of none too placid endeavors of learning, Howard finally receives her MESSAGE TO GARCIA. This program, a challenge in itself, is also a privilege, an opportunity we believe, for our small Southern college to join with greater forces in the struggle for the victory of man—free and unafraid.

We've known no physical danger, or torture or even discomfort compared with the men before Aachen or Okinawa, but we have felt a small part of the mental anguish that is an inevitable byproduct of war. Insignificant as it is, this has been the strongest bond between us and those who fight in our stead. We've known and felt at odd moments and in the dark stillness of the night, the doubt and fear and uncertainty that haunt men who fight and die. We've known insecurity and confusion and bewilderment in the same small measure.

WORLD WAR II

But out of our doubts and fears have grown a stronger faith in God our Father and our brother, man, and an unshakable determination to build out of this chaos a clean new world, washed of the pettiness and jealousy and hypocrisy that curse men and drag them in the mud.

LT. ARTHUR S. POSTLE, Commanding Officer

LT. JOHN B. CROSSLEY, Executive Officer

NAVY ADMINISTRATION

LT. ARTHUR S. POSTLE

The Navy V-12 Unit at Howard is fortunate in having as its Commanding Officer, Lt. Arthur S. Postle, a native of Ohio and a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, where he also received his M.A. Degree. Besides his love for fishing and hunting, and a decided interest in that greater of all indoor sports, bowling, Mr. Postle is a member of that select group of Americans who enjoy dabbling in the art of writing.

Before entering the Navy in April, 1943, our C. O. was Dean of Men at the University of Cincinnati. His first assignment was that of Commanding Officer of the Carson-Newman V-12 Unit where he remained until the latter part of June, 1944, when he was transferred to Howard. Evidence of his feeling toward his "adopted" college was shown in his statement, "This cruise on the good ship HOWARD has proved to be a memorable one. The college officials, faculty, mess squad, ship's company and crew all have contributed toward making this a delightful tour of duty. Long may Howard College continue to assist her sons and daughters to serve effectively their country and their fellow men".

LT. JOHN B. CROSSLEY

Lt. John B. Crossley is another Yankee who has come to Dixie to cement relations here. Born in Wilmington, Delaware, the Unit's Executive Officer is a graduate of Pomona College, in Claremont, California. Before entering the Navy in April, 1943, he was Superintendent of Schools at Placentia, Cal. Lt. Crossley received his indoctrination training at Columbia University, after which he was assigned to Milligan College, in Tennessee, as Executive Officer. He remained there until he received orders to report to Howard in September, 1944. Mr. Crossley is an ardent sports fan, but admits that golf and tennis are his favorites.

Our Executive Officer expressed well the sentiments of the entire unit when he said, "It is hoped that before another issue of the ENTRE NOUS the war will be over and that the Navy on Howard Campus will be but a memory. For those of us in the Navy program, memories of our stay here will be happy ones. Our thanks to you of the college who have made our tour of duty a pleasure."

ADMINISTRATION

MAJOR DAVIS

The PRESIDENT

Major Harwell G. Davis' years of administration at Howard have not been easy ones. When he took over the task of leading the college, it was heavily in debt. Major Davis saw her through this crisis safely only to be confronted with the problem of running a college during a war. The Navy has added greatly to the prestige of the school, but many problems have arisen in correlating civilian and Naval students activities. The varied positions that he has held have well fitted him for the task. Major Davis has endeared himself to the campus, not only through his business ability but also because of his friendly attitude toward the students. Moreover many of us even now realize that the character of Major Davis is the kind that Howard may build upon through the years. And to his character we give our deepest respect and loyalty.

D E A N B U R N S

Dean Burns is a man of deep cultural background, of warm, friendly cooperation to faculty and students alike, and a man of action.

His love of Howard and his desire for her improvement are felt in his every decision. Through his tireless efforts Howard has steadily advanced in the world of learning.

His scholastic ideals have led him to take an active interest in Hypatia and Trident and to foster the annual Scholarship Day.

On the administrative side, Dean Burns is efficient, thoughtful and just; once having decided upon a policy he does not hesitate, but puts it into immediate effect.

Scholar, teacher, gentleman, and above all, friend to the students, Dean Burns has earned his place among the immortals of Howard College.

DEAN DALE

Dean Dale is the friendly embodiment of the Howard spirit. His office is the meeting place of large groups of students who gather to absorb his wit and understanding, and his classes are famous, or should we say notorious, for the freedom of discussion he allows. His very real interest in students led to his appointment as Dean of Men and there is no man on the campus better fitted for this post.

DEAN OBENCHAIN

Howard students are proud of our open-minded and open-hearted Mrs. Obenchain, prominent in civic and educational circles. Especially lucky are women students who claim her attention as advisor for small, yet terrifying problems of the moment. And versed as she is in more important problems of the world, she proves her stature by her willingness to lend a sympathetic ear or to render personal assistance. Mrs. Obenchain is a charming person to know. In short, she is the type of woman college girls dream of becoming.

D R . R E I D

Vice-President

Dr. A. Hamilton Reid, vice-president, has led Howard College through difficult days of financial reverses. His tireless efforts in regard to the Centennial Forward Program have supplied the college with a sizeable fund for building and improvements after the war.

Last year Dr. Reid left Howard to accept the position of President of the Executive Committee of the Alabama Baptists. It was a loss which we felt deeply, but we wish him every success in his new office.

MRS. KIRKLAND

Registrar

Helen Sharbutt Kirkland's office is seldom empty of the puzzled hordes of freshmen, the bewildered maze of sophomores, or superior confusion of seniors. To each she gives her time, thought and proved ability. Every student who comes in goes away with an appreciation for her helpful attitude.

The F A C U

PROFESSOR DEAR
by
A. Student

Say! Have you heard the latest of verses,
Which called for a chorus of curses
From faculty members of Howard?

No? Then let me relate you this ditty,
It is, of a truth, very witty
And tells of the profs at old Howard:

There once was a fellow named Guesser,
Whose knowledge grew lesser and lesser,
It at last grew so small
He knew nothing at all,
So they made him a Howard professor!

Now please don't suspect we're deriding
The "Book-larin'" Howard's providing,
For tis not really so,
I believe the profs know,
We appreciate all of their guiding.

Take Chemistry, Physics, or Writing,
Our profs make them just as inviting
As a flower in June,
Or a full, golden moon,
In a word, they are truly "delighting."

Take Home Economics or Speakin',
And if it's sound knowledge you're seekin',
Then you needn't look more,
It's right here at your door,
Open up, Go ahead, take a peek in!

The meaning of all of these verses, (Tis for this you've been saving those curses)

Will be found just below,
So read on, onward go,
Let me deal this last, shattering blow.

Professors, who teach, guide and explain,
Our helpers along knowledge lane,
Never mind what we say,
It's the true student way,
To deride you and chide you,
And try to outstride you,
But never forget that our heart's are of gold,
Tis from them pour our thanks to you,
ten-thousand fold.

As Dogpatch has its L'il Abner, so Howard has its Nash Collier.

'44 STUDENT SENATE

The STUDENT

LEWIS MARLER, President

'44 SENATE

The Student Senate is the highest student governing group on the campus. Being a student body officer or a Senator is no light job. With the president of the student body presiding over the meetings these officers and senators supervise the activities of the student body and determine how the student activity fees will be spent. It is one organization in which there is all work and no play and these representatives, elected by the student body and the respective classes, have the responsibility of making budgets, appropriations to the various organizations whose functions benefit the entire student body, and of sponsoring War Bond and Red Cross Drives. This year the Senate has figured, adjusted, and "stretched" the student fund in order to eke out enough money to keep the Crimson in Publication, and to assure the students that there would be an Entre Nous for 1944-45. With this task accomplished the Senate deserves a "pat on the back" for the splendid management and service done this year.

'45 SENATE

War Loan drives—Red Cross Drives—Blood Donor Drives—Parties—Pep Meetings—Student Programs—all these and many other familiar and long remembers occasions are a product of the Student Senate this year. The Student Senate, composed of the president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, elected by popular vote by the student body, and ten senators, four from the senior class, three from the junior class, two from the sophomore class and one from the freshman class, elected by members of the respective classes, conduct the business of the student body and make the yearly budget, appropriating the money to the various organizations and to the two publications, the Crimson and the Entre Nous. This is not always easy to do with the limited amount of money, but after many hours of figuring and a few headaches the Student Senate comes out victorious once again.

The C R I M S O N

It may be the latest news on the new curriculum or it may be merely a bit of gossip about the latest boy-girl affair. But if it happens on Howard's campus, sooner or later it will find its way into the columns of The Crimson.

Published bi-monthly, The Crimson strives to keep Howardites informed about activities of campus organizations, student and faculty personalities and events affecting the college as a whole. The editors during the past year have maintained strict editorial policies, advocating needed improvements, but always giving credit where credit is due. Bias and prejudice have been religiously excluded from The Crimson's make-up.

SCUTTLEBUTT'S BEGINNINGS

The Naval Unit at Howard, established in July, 1943, took time out for six weeks to get settled into its new routine and accustomed to its new surroundings. Having successfully accomplished these two great tasks, it appeared that the trainees were all set to live a healthy, happy, Howard life. But something was lacking, something missing in the unit's make-up.

"Could it be, sir, by chance, incidentally, excuse me for bothering you, that what we need is a unit newspaper?" one timid trainee suggested. And so it was that August, 1943 saw the unit's initial journalistic attempt, appropriately dubbed the Scuttlebutt, brought forth for all to behold.

SCUTTLEBUTT

Established to provide an outlet for information from headquarters, to create a closer tie between the unit and college, to furnish a bit of entertainment for all, and to give interested trainees an opportunity for journalistic experience they would otherwise not have had, the Scuttlebutt has served its purpose well. Nor can we ever forget the spirit of friendliness and cooperation of the editors and staff of the Howard Crimson; without which their aid this publication would have been impossible.

To us who have worked on the Scuttlebutt, the memories of this little two-page sheet will always be pleasant ones—it is our hope that you who remain at Howard after the Navy has departed will likewise remember it in somewhat a similar manner.

EDITORS

By now you have doubtless discovered WHAT the Entre Nous is; the "sixty-four dollar question" WHEN has been answered; and we hope the PURPOSE of this so-called "activity" will be revealed twenty-thirty-forty years from now when you remove its musty form from the bookshelf and for the first time read some things that are written in it.

You have your kicks now, you will have them then—and on these two pages are the people upon whom you will heap words, words, words.

We're not offering apologies of any kind; for we too have our kicks—there was a war on, paper was scarce, photographic materials were almost non-existent, and a lot of you didn't cooperate.

The ENTRE NOUS

On the other hand, we are the debtors. Just as generals appraise true merit by the standard of "over and above the call of duty", so are editors in a position to note that extra mile which sometimes means the entire journey. For this, the editors of Entre Nous would like to give special thanks. . .

To Mary Ann McGee who stepped in calmly at crucial moments and contributed many inches of copy with which to fill these pages.

To Wendell Givens, who executed the beauty parade with all the skill and abandon of a Ziegfeld.

To Ronald Weathers, whose coverage of the world of sports at Howard was strictly "on the ball".

To Seaman Dick Seaver, whose poignant touch of humor brought life to the V-12 as well as other pages of Entre Nous.

And to our faculty advisor—that busy, lovable, jack-of-all-trades, Mr. Baker.

In the history of yearbooks, never has an editor had a more able and willing assistant than I have had this year. Working with Mary Nell Pass has been a privilege and experience long to be remembered.—The Editor.

LYDIA KEYES WOODCOCK—Director

In the field of public relations at Howard College, the Drama Service Department has made its bow on the campus. Contributing to the cultural, artistic and religious life of the state, it is designed to give technical, personal assistance to all schools, churches and special groups who knock on our door.

Its director, Lydia Keyes Woodcock, is a member of Zeta Phi Eta, professional drama fraternity. She has spent the greater part of her life in the study of the drama and knows it from both the educational and the producing end. In her work she has friendly entre to the leading publishers, and our mails attest the service rendered the play producing public. Her slogan is, "Bring us your problems—we do not know all the answers, but our advisory group is a 'who's who' of those who do."

SORORITY OFFICERS

Lead out in Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Dance

In spite of outstanding loyalty to each other, the girls of Kappa Chapter of Alpha Delta Pi, oldest sorority at Howard, have diverse interests and engage in many activities. Among Kappa girls are the presidents of Womens' Student Government, Pan-Hellenic, Beta Pi Theta and Alpha Epsilon Delta. A D Pi had three finalists in the Entre Nous Beauty Parade and more members in H-Day than any other sorority. Sigma Nu and Pi Kappa Alpha fraternities chose Marie Lipscombe and Jeanne Mangum as their respective sweethearts.

Outstanding events on the A D Pi social calendar were initiations, rush parties, banquets, Founders Day and parties at the Sorority lodge with the Navy trainees. The war has added two new activities, knitting for the Red Cross and serving as junior hostess at the U.S.O. A D Pi still holds the Pan-Hellenic scholarship cup for the campus and one for Beta Province of Alpha Delta Pi.

Nearly every organization on the campus is represented in A D Pi: Masquers, Tile and Mortar, A.E.D. Beta Pi Theta, Womens Student Government, Pi Gamma Mu, Glee Club, A Capella Choir, Dietetics Club and Pi Kappa Theta.

SORORITY OFFICERS

Evidence that Beta Sigma Omicron deserves its name, "The Friendly Sorority", is seen daily as groups of the campus' more interesting persons gather in front of the lodge, swapping yarns and enjoying life with those little girls with the great big smiles.

Qualities other than friendliness, however, have helped the Beta Sigs within the past year to win such honors as president of Pan-Hellenic, president of Y.W.C.A., "Miss U.S.S. Howard", a member of Who's Who, beauty parade finalists, officers in the Red Cross unit, the Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Council, and various class positions. Such merit speaks for itself.

Sparkling originality has created a campus legend concerning their success at entertaining. There was never a dull moment at the Night Club Party, the atmospheric Jungle Party, the chili supper, the skating party, and other memorable fun fests of the year.

Beta Sigma Omicron originality has also been applied in a larger way to USO work, knitting for refugees, making scrapbooks for soldiers, war bond and stamp sales, and promoting Howard publicity.

ALPHA PI CHAPTER of

SORORITY OFFICERS

"Dream Girl of Delta Zeta" is more than a song at Howard College. Two of the four fraternity sweethearts are members of the sorority, and three of the five Entre Nous beauties, including Miss H-Day wear the miniature lamp.

The D Z's seem to have a knack for getting into activities. Besides holding a large share of class offices, the group includes Tile and Mortar, Chi Delta Phi and A. A. U. W. presidents; Vice-presidents of Pan Hellenic and Inter-Fraternity Sorority Council; members of Alpha Epsilon Delta, Beta Pi Theta, Pi Kappa Theta, Kappa Pi, and Masquers; editors of Entre Nous and Crimson and Crimson business manager.

Delta Zeta has the highest number of Hypatia honor members and students listed in Who's Who of any campus sorority.

But Delta Zeta cannot be represented by a list of honors; nor can it be pictured purely as a social organization. Its purpose goes much deeper than that. Working as a group, the girls strive to offer individual opportunity for development of leadership and character. They do not try to be the most popular, glamorous or brilliant. Instead they work together to become a true combination of all three—the ideal college coeds.

SORORITY OFFICERS

Lead Out in Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Dance

If one characteristic of Phi Mu at Howard outshines another, it is versatility. The girls who can play hostess so graciously at their traditional teas, reign supreme on the athletic field, support a score of campus activities, and at the same time, hold their own scholastically, defy classification. They are Phi Mu's.

Individuality, the keynote of the Phi Mu personality, is tempered by its bond of love and loyalty to the "Faithful Sisters."

And just as the interests are as numerous as the members, so are the chapter honors varied ones. Phi Mu enthusiasm reached a peak during the football season when it was led by three Phi Mu cheerleaders. Various elections brought the honors of secretary of the student body, president of masquers, president of the dormitory council, and president of the Wesleyan Foundation to their door. Distinction was again won when another Phi Mu "Miss Howard" was elected, the sixth over a period of seven years.

Social highlights of the year were dinner parties, "informals" at the house, and the annual Valentine Tea.

FRATERNITY OFFICERS

Lead out in Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Dance

The members of Theta Alpha Chapter of Lambda Chi have adapted themselves admirably to the fraternity scheme of things in war time. Dedication services before each of the ten departures into services have strengthened the bond between those who go and those who stay. Still another bond has been the admittance of several returned veterans into the chapter here.

Service to the student body has been recognized and awarded by the election of a Lambda Chi to president of the student body, and other members hold class and campus positions of honor, as well as lending support to the Red Cross Drive, the Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Council and other campus activities.

Socially the Lambda Chi's have caused quite a stir by honoring each of the sororities with a special party. Eighteen other parties have contributed no end to brightening up of the campus life.

Fortunate is the chapter in having as faculty advisors, Mr. Baker and Dr. Sarkiss, two of Howard's most popular professors. Other support is received from the very active alumni group in Birmingham of one hundred fifty members.

FRATERNITY OFFICERS AND SWEETHEART
Lead Out in Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Dance

Alpha Pi Chapter of the Pi Kappa Alpha in the last year faced the difficulties confronting college fraternities all over the United States—the conversion from a war time schedule back to peace time life. The first step in the reconversion will be the securing, in November, of the fraternity house which has been headquarters of the Howard V-12 Unit. The "Pikes" look forward in anticipation to the day when they will once more live together in unity and true fraternalism which is Pi Kappa Alpha.

In the fraternity there are a number of returned veterans, attracted by the fellowship offered them at Howard by the extended hand of Pi K. A.

Pi K. A. at Howard is representative of a cross section of the young men of America. Among its members are students of Engineering, the Ministry, Medicine, Pharmacy, Art, Journalism, and future officers of the United States Navy. Whatever the Pikes may study, there are three qualities that are continually stressed—Character, Duty, and Versatility. The Pikes are represented in almost every phase of school activity. They have members in the Student Senate, the Baptist Student Union, and the president of Pi K. A. is the president of the Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Council.

Nor have the Pikes been inactive in the social field for they have had a wide variety of parties both attractive and entertaining.

The Star and the Lamb of Pi Kappa Phi have not failed to shine this year at Howard. Though few in number at times, especially at the close of each semester, the members have been outstanding contributors to campus life.

Carrying on under handicap in the top Pi Kappa Phi manner, the fraternity has occupied their house across from the college, always dreaming of the future and their return to their real home (behind Berry Field) when the war is over and the girls have moved.

Talk of parties at Howard never fails to bring out the fact that this group, composed chiefly of seamen with a sprinkling of ministerial students and chemists, know how to give the top-notchers of the campus. Their spirit, interest, and wholehearted desire to please makes them a must on everybody's acquaintance list.

Know them? If you don't, you're missing half of campus life.

OFFICERS AND SWEETHEART

Sigma Nu, the oldest fraternity on the campus, possesses a heritage so closely woven with Howard tradition that the histories of the two on the East Lake campus are inseparable. Fraternal problems of the present are softened by its long-held dignity of the not too somber (sober) variety.

And even war has not changed the quality nor the spirit of Sigma Nu except to broaden it. Its membership which was formerly chosen from the finer old families in Birmingham and Alabama now is comprised chiefly of blue-coated trainees from Philadelphia, Chicago, Kansas City, and Detroit who have brought the stimulus of new ideas, yet true to the universal Sigma Nu instincts.

Despite unavoidable changes, the white rose of Sigma Nu, the snake, the star, and the Sweetheart, Miss Marie Lipscombe, remain the same.

The Women's Pan-Hellenic Council is composed of two representatives from each sorority on the campus. The presidency rotates among the four sororities every four years. The primary functions of the Council are to co-ordinate the activities of the sororities, regulate rush rules and set up standards of conduct for sorority girls and regulations regarding the houses. The Dean of Women, Mrs. I. R. Obenchain, is faculty advisor and works in close co-operation with the Council.

The Pan Hellenic Workshop program presents discussions, skits and speakers of interest to both sorority and non sorority girls. One of the most popular aspects of the Workshop Program is acting as junior hostess at the U.S.O. Pan Hellenic freshmen orientation program includes discussions of the clubs and organizations on the campus, explanation and interpretation of rush rules and entertaining with open house to give new students an opportunity to meet and be with Howard people.

INTER - FRATERNITY - SORORITY COUNCIL

The Inter - Fraternity - Sorority Council was formed last fall by representatives from the eight sororities and fraternities to act as a stabilizer and arbitrator in campus affairs involving the "Greeks".

The Council has fastened the development of good feeling between the separate organizations and co-operation between the Greeks and the faculty and student body. A constitution has been adopted and meetings are held regularly.

Another aim of the Council is to bring better forms of recreation and entertainment to the campus. Some of the social affairs sponsored by the Council were the formal Christmas dance, followed by a series of informal dances.

The Song of The Navy

Stand Navy out to sea,
Fight our battle cry,
We'll never change our course,
So vicious foe steer shy-y-y-y
Roll out the T.N.T.
Anchors Aweigh
Sail on to victory and sink their bones to Davy Jones hooray—
Yo-ho there ship-mate, take the fighting to the far off seas;
Yo-ho there mess-mate, hear the wailing of the wild ban-shees.
All hands fire brands Let's blast them as we go. So

Stand Navy out to sea,
Fight our battle cry;
We'll never change our course, so vicious foe steer Shy-y-y-y-y
Roll out the T.N.T.
Anchors Aweigh Sail on to victory
And sink their bones to Davy Jones hoo-ray!

Anchors Aweigh my boys, Anchors Aweigh
Fare-well to college joys,
We sail at break of day, day, day, day!
Through our last night on shore,
Drink to the foam,
Un-til we meet once more,
Here's wishing you a happy voyage home.
Heave a-ho there, sailor, everybody drink up while you may;
Heave a-ho there, sailor, for you're gonna sail at break of day
Drink away, drink away, for you sail at break of day, Hey!

Stand Navy down the field,
Sail set to the sky!
We'll never change our course so,
Army you steer shy-y-y-y
Roll up the score Navy
Anchors Aweigh—
Sail Navy down the field,
And sink the army, sink the army gray.

SUMMER TIME AT HOWARD

The BEAUTIES

A. B. WINDHAM

The SELECTOR

On Okinawa
April 28, 1945

Dear Wendell,

At last, the picture of the Howard beauties have come and I have been going around in a daze since. After much consideration and discussion, a selection has been made but let me say a few pertinent facts first.

In all my years of beauty contests, I don't believe I have ever seen a lovelier bunch of girls. Usually, in these contests, one or two girls stand out and easily walk away with the bacon. But in this instance - and I assure you I was aided and abetted by the men of my command, all with an excellent eye to beauty - there was an almost knock-down-drag-out fight over the respective merits of the girls selected 1, 2 and 3.

Too, each girl had her individual champion. For example, my communications man, a very radio-man second class, came out flatly in favor of No. 4, proclaiming her the loveliest thing he had ever laid eyes on. And he was quite right. But my doctor, an Army major, who himself is married to a former model, swore that No. 2 was a thing of beauty and a joy forever and that anybody who did not agree was simply stupid!

But my chief petty officer, my intelligence officer (a lieutenant commander), three yeomen and my sanitary engineer stood firmly for No. 1, no one could I do but agree with them! The most persistent question asked by this bunch was - "What are their names and telephone numbers?" All of which I didn't know - but would like to.

no - here they are, numbered on the back in the order in which they placed. Congratulations to the winner, whoever she may be. You understand of course, that picking beauties from photographs is different from selecting them in person, so I only hope the No. 1 winner is as lovely as her picture and I'm sure she is.

Thanko again for the honor of selecting these beauties, may the shadow of old Howard never grow less.

Cordially -

About the Wolf Who Picked 'Em . . .

Lt. Comdr. Amasa B. Windham, distinguished Howard alumnus, the man who met Madeline Carroll, and who admits a knowledge of many talents including journalism, acting, playwriting, sketching and photography, and who has attained a measure of success in this man's Navy, remains untouched by fame and success—he still wants to go down in history merely as the man who met Madeline Carroll. . .

That's the way it was. He immediately became a BMOC (Big Man On the Campus). His ability and drive, in addition to his girth, was responsible for this. He soon had more irons in the fire than the Village Smithy, and during his time at Howard, Amasa Windham became the most talked about, (both good and bad) man on the campus. A member of Sigma Nu fraternity (and still very active in its affairs) Windham was parade manager every years he attended Howard. This was in those glorious never-never years when "Beat Southern!" was the only thing thought of from Fall opening until Thanksgiving Day. Thanks to Amasa Windham, Howard won the parade cup from Southern each year he was in charge. He founded the Beauty Parade, now an annual affair; he was co-founder of Trident. He was a feature columnist for The Crimson, writing a column under the name of "Prof. Whoosis."

Abe (as he was known to friend and foe) was perhaps best known as a campus politician. He never ran for office, he was content to run someone else's campaign, then run the office after election. Through his ability, Gail Patrick, who later attained movie fame, lost by a split-hair vote for student body president. Abe admits his candidate wasn't half as good as Miss Fitzpatrick, but he "couldn't let a woman win." Despite the political tilt, he and Gail remained good friends, and are so today.

His travels took him to a local newspaper, where he was employed as artist. From here, he dashed out five plays, all of which were published, one of which won the Montevallo Playwriting Award. Next, he turned to acting, traveling with a Federal Theater circuit, and Summer Stock in New England. Back to Birmingham, he settled down to writing for the Birmingham Age-Herald. Writing headlines on war news proved too much for him finally, and he enlisted in the Navy, being commissioned a lieutenant (jg).

It was while traveling with the Navy that he met the girl of his dreams—Miss Carroll.

"She's wonderful, she's beautiful, I'll now die happy," said Windham. . .

In addition to England's contribution to movie fame, Windham is on speaking terms with Allen Jones, Johnny Mack Brown, Brock Pemberton, Olie Olson and Chic Johnson of "Hellzapoppin;" Al Capp, of L'il Abner renown; Vera Zorina, Loraine Day, Robert Ripley, Dinah Shore, and even the one and only "Prince Mike" Romanoff.

At present Windham is busy sharing in the making of the headlines he used to write. He is a member of a Navy military government unit on the island of Okinawa. It was here that he made the selection of the beauties for the beauty section of this publication. One can almost picture the mighty Windham gazing fondly at the pictures of the beauties, ducking shell bursts, and thinking tenderly of the Madeline he left in the States. . .

All this may sound unusual to the reader, but we are writing of an unusual man. . . After all, didn't he meet Madeline Carroll?

Inflation, the house with the interesting rooms is the home of interesting people. Friendly and fun-loving, yet coming to school with a purpose, many Inflationites are leaders on the campus and excel in a variety of fields including music, pharmacy, religious education, and journalism.

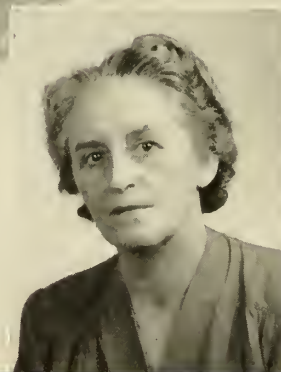

INFLATION

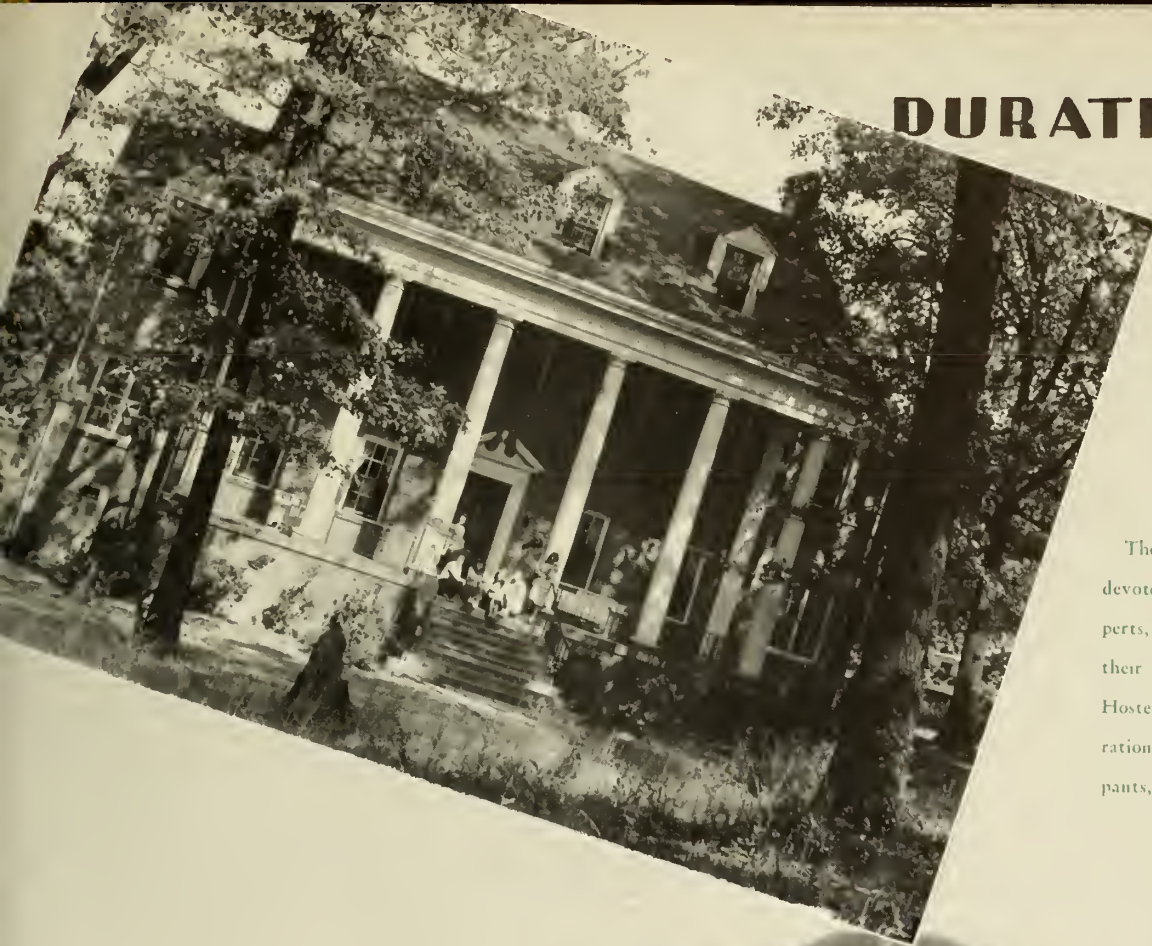

Lucky are the Ration girls who are nearest that hub of dormitory life—the dining hall, who can sit on their shady lawn and watch softball games and drills, and who have at their command the genial and sympathetic guidance of their "housemother", Louise McGinty. Variety of achievements make them indispensable.

DURATION

The home of Woo Hill sunbath devotees, of sun parlor date experts, of music fans who mother their majestic grand piano, and of Hostess, Mrs. J. D. Hamrick, Duration is declared, by all its occupants, "The only place to live".

Sensation, the newest resident hall on the campus, has created quite a stir with its willingness to participate in many campus activities, its adeptness at all girls' sports, and its abundance of really good-looking freshmen. Most of all, Sensation has presented a true challenge to sleepy upperclassman life at Howard.

Mrs. Davis

Thanks to M R S . D A V I S

No greater inspiration toward graciousness and charm is needed by Howard Co-eds other than our lovely first lady, Mrs. Davis. Her presence is always felt and appreciated at the academic teas, lectures, and banquets that she somehow takes time to attend.

But in far greater ways has she proved her interest in the welfare of all students. Sensitive to all unsightliness, and adept in the art of decoration, she has left the indelible mark of her good taste on the most beautiful spots of the campus. The auditorium, Pine Lodge, and the offices in Main are now pointed to with pride.

Programs, too, such as the impressive Christmas Pageant were directed by the versatile hand of Mrs. Davis. Her eagerness to share the finer things has brought us many speakers who have enlightened an otherwise dull and pointless chapel period.

The embodiment of the Howard spirit in personal recognition and remembrance of the individual student. Doing the unexpected, the warm and the heartfelt things, has been her real way of saying, "Take time to create beauty in your lives." For all this, we are grateful, Mrs. Davis.

S T A R G A Z I N G

It is evening. The hot stillness of the afternoon sun has lifted leaving a gentle caressing breeze to comfort and cool "Tomorrow", I thought, "I will be an alumna," and the strangest of all feelings constricts my heart. It is just as if someone had shown me through a long, beautiful hall full of an interesting variety of collections—some beautiful, some plain, and some unpleasant to gaze upon—then stood me at the end of the hall before a closed door and said—"Now, open it."

Slowly, I saunter down the walk from Main and sit upon a bench under spreading Sherman. In the dusk, a certain enchantment falls over everything and the evening songs of hidden warblers make the picture complete. Lovingly I look around while echoes of passing footsteps bring a strange parade before my mind's eye.

Over there is the well-worn path from Smith—it was merely a small trail when my scared feet brought me tremblingly to Main my first day. Freshmen tests and initiation really sufficed to crumble my ego about the knowledge I had when I graduated from high school. They were fun even if they did scare us half to death, and, my, the seniors were so dignified and wonderful. Their complete friendliness and willingness to help startled me and made me determine to come out of my own little world and acquire that radiant spirit I found on the campus. Next came the vision of rushing and trying to find some class in a strange place called Ethiopia, talking to professors and finding that they are human, too. Sororities, rush parties, organizational activities, and "get acquainted" parties whirl past. Gradually even the rushed whirl settles into a definite pattern—gay excitement in seeing old friends and making new ones, determined plunge into classes and books, a complicated entanglement into extra-curricular activities with committee meetings and parties on every hand, then finals with the rush for the library and all the cramming that goes with it, finally the tearful good-byes to friends. So, the vicious, yet entertaining cycle goes on and on.

The evening star is out and dusk is gathering. Hark! Faintly I can hear gay music and indistinctly I can see a crowd dressed in gay scarfs and sombreros. Yes, we did have fun at the Mexican Fiesta as well as all the other socials. Many settled couples can date their first meeting or their courtship back to those "get-togethers". Now—am I dreaming? No, I see, now. The girls, visions of loveliness, are walking around in their evening gowns after a formal dinner.

The parade hastens on at a mad pace. Scene after scene of little and big events push one another on hurriedly—H-Day, Class events, Chapel programs, B.S.U. work, "Join-the-Church" Day, Prayer groups, Religious experiences, Friends and acquaintances, Dormitory life with never a dull moment, bring their pleasant or bitter memories and fade away into the dusk.

A day at college is a full and exciting day. Yet my most treasured memory is that at the close of a busy day when perplexities and cares have hurled their force upon me, I can pause quietly, and with all the girls at the Vesper Call "Be still and know" that God is right here waiting and wanting to bless and guide. Vespers at twilight time is a call to prayer and meditation and a blessing of added peace and strength.

Why, it's dark! I must go. The time has come for me to open the door to the future. Goodbye, dear Howard. The stars are so beautiful and the moon is casting a mellow glow over the substantial walls of Main. Thank You, God, for Howard. It has helped me to find more definitely my taste in life and has not only taught me "book knowledge" but how to live and live abundantly. I pray that you, Howard, may ever stand as a beacon to guide eager feet in finding their place in the Road of Life.

ATHLETICS

BUB WALKER—COACH

COACH WALKER

About Bub Walker, who's given name is Erskine Ramsay: Coach Walker came to Howard in July, replacing Snitz Snider, who found it favorable to return to his old coaching job at Bessemer High School. Walker, an Alabama boy to the core, prepped at Ensley High School, in Birmingham, and Marion Military Institute. He went to College at the University of Alabama, starring with the Crimson Tide as a stellar right half back. For half a dozen or so seasons before coming to Howard, Coach helped his brother, Peahead, an ex-Howard great, as backfield coach of the Wake Forest Deacons. Bub's outstanding backfield combination at Wake Forrest was turned out in 1941. Arriving at Howard in early July, Coach Walker quickly showed the faculty and students that he wasn't one to sit around all day on his big—front porch. Within three weeks, Coach knew just about who was interested in the team and ere another week had gone by he had men out for their summer practice.

ASSISTANT COACHES

KNUDSEN and JURKOWICZ

Chiefs Jurkowicz and Knudsen were the salt of the earth in the opinion of most of the lads who had to work under them in the Physical Ed. department. Both are ex-college stars, Knudsen excelling in track and football at Morningside College, in Iowa, and Jurkowicz holding down center on the football squad in his days at the University of Minnesota. Knudsen has been with the Navy unit since its coming here in 1943, while Jurkowicz is somewhat a recent addition, coming in late 1944.

KEEP 'EM TRYING

The frost was on the pumpkin,
The grapes were on the vine
When Howard had the ball
On the Majors' 10-yard line.
Two seconds, showed the great
big clock,
To do or not to do—
To put the pesky ball across
Or just lay down and lose.
Big Pritchard snapped the ball
And all the linemen hit
As Spencer faded, way, way back,
To do his mighty bit.

At first he failed to find his man
As he danced about out there,
But then at once he saw him,
And the ball was in the air.
'Twas then the final whistle blew,
The crowd's one heart did jump
As Davis raced to catch the ball
And pull it in—ker-plunk!
Across the double stripe he streaked
And all the crowd did yell,
But Millsaps won it, anyhow,
So tell me, what the hell?

MISSISSIPPI BOYS

WHERE THEY DRESS

HOWARD'S

WHERE THEY PRACTICE
WHERE THEY PLAY

Such was the spirit that Howard's 1944 football team exemplified—always fighting, always trying right on down to the last seconds of the last minute of the last period. Except in the matter of losing games, the 1944 Bulldogs were typical of Howard teams, who display what skill they possess to the best of their ability along with a fine fighting spirit.

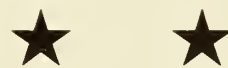

"Brand new" might well describe this particular team. Only four members of the 1943 squad were on hand when a new coaching staff, headed by one Bub Walker, issued the call for the opening of Summer football practice in July. Besides the return of end Lewis Marler, tackle James Pittman, center Bill Pritchard and blocking back Jack Hay, 39 men turned out for the first practice. In that group, half a dozen had had some college experience, 24 had had some high school training and the rest had had no experience at all.

HERE'S THE TEAM, STRONGLY RE-INFORCED BY NAVY PERSONNEL:

BULLDOGS

Millsaps' Majors (of Mississippi) an old Dixie conference opponent for Howard, provided the Bulldogs with their first taste of competition. Playing on the Majors' home field, the 'Dogs lost, 19-14, but it was all the Millsaps team could do to hold on to its lead in the second half of that game as Howard's line charged in repeatedly, offensively and defensively, bringing the Majors to their knees. The second-half lacing Howard gave the Majors meant only one thing to the Bulldogs: "We'll square our account with these boys when we play them again this season".

The Bulldogs continued their wanderings before their first home game, next going to Montgomery to renew their rivalry with the Auburn Plainsmen. The Seadogs (oft called that) were going to take their 'first in '44', but the Tigers had different ideas as the team, Kuykendall and all, romped all over the Howard lads, 32-0.

Alabama 63, Howard 7 (those 7 points looked mighty good).

Carson-Newman was next in line to brush the Bulldogs, the Eagles turning the trick in a Tri-Cities, Ala., benefit game, 12-6. An acute case of fumblyitis coupled with a few bad breaks gave the Eagles the game. The Bulldogs consistently outplayed them, but 'twas to no avail.

It was 'now or never' by this time as Howard came up to its last game of the season, and it was 'never' as the Millsaps Majors were on their toes from start to finish to triumph, 19-7. The Howard line proved its worth all night long, but it was a weak pass defense that let the Majors in with victory no. 2 over the Bulldogs.

The PLAYERS

A couple of Preachers—Marler and Billy Gamble, both ends—were the only civilians who heeded the first call for practice. Later they were joined by two more Preachers, Arthur Koehler and Guy Bassett, and Clarence Mayo. Bassett, because of a dislocated shoulder suffered in practice, soon was dropped from the squad, leaving four civilians on the team. All of that quartet, however, proved to be key men, Marler and Gamble starting on the flanks in all five games, Koehler starting at fullback in four games, while Mayo got in plenty of time as a reserve tackle. Soon after the close of the football season, Mayo went into the Navy, leaving behind a football scholarship at Georgia Tech which he hopes to use upon his return to civilian life.

'Big Pitt' Pittman, who dabbled in politics at Howard long enough to be elected student body vice-president, was hampered all season by an old shoulder injury, but, nevertheless, he carried on at tackle, starting in five games and handling the kickoff duties.

Alternating as Pittman's running mate on the other side of the line at right tackle were Roy Bates and Buddy Stigler, two Mississippi boys from Purvis and Drew, respectively. Neither had had previous college experience, but both caught on fast and developed greatly before the season's conclusion.

Two of the best-manned positions on the team were the guard spots. Coach Walker had four fine boys to choose from, but before the season was up he invariably settled for Rhett Maxwell and Bill Carter as his starters, although he knew he could count on Fox Fowler and Ed Tuszl, two low-slung heftyes who could shove the defense around.

Bill Pritchard became known as the team's 'Ironman' ere the season had gotten through September, because of the lad's stellar line-backing and excellent passing. Having no capable understudy, Bill was forced to go the route the entire season, and seldom did he weaken in his assignment. Small for his position, Bill wasn't one to let size interfere with his play as he backed up a tough line that held opponents at bay and forced them to the air.

Talk about blocking backs, Howard had two of 'em: who just wouldn't quit when it came to blocking. Hay, letterman from the 1943 squad, found very able assistance in Milton (Red) Wray, a Mississippi lad with an engaging smile. Both came in for a lot of play and signal-barking all season long. The pair seemed indestructible and were in top shape for every game.

The tailback position, sore spot of the team, was handled most of the time by Ed Spencer, a fair passer, kicker and runner. Vainly trying to help him was Ray (my brother's a pilot) Kyker, Vienna, Virginia's gift to Howard College.

Jed Pepper, speed merchant deluxe, who was by far the fastest man on the squad, ran his plays from the wingback spot. A dangerous man once in the open, Jed sometimes returned punts and could always pick up the yardage on those reverses. His understudy was Charles Davis.

It was Milo Fields, hefty hard-charging fullback, who gave Howard a spark of life in the first game of the season, but he was soon transferred leaving the spot permanently weakened as Arthur Koehler tried to fill in, but couldn't get the same results of the plunging Fields.

There's the team, take it for what it's worth—it played five games and lost as many. The Bulldog line play was terrific both offensively and defensively. When teams failed to go through it, they went over it, and quite successfully as Howard never could set up a decent pass defense all season long.

Only four came back (sound's like a book title). But every one of 'em had something on the ball, and except for Marler played a lot of it. From the 1943 team they are, from the left, Lewis Marler, James Pittman, Bill Pritchard and John Hay.

The Bulldogs had a mascot and it wasn't a bulldog. Called "Tar Baby" because of her black shiny coat, the little pup was the center of attraction anywhere the team was playing. "Tar Baby" got her biggest hand of the year, marching at Legion Field with Mickle's Mighty Men. Only a few weeks later, though, death called Tar Baby after she had given birth to three still-born puppies. She was quietly laid to rest with appropriate honors from the Navy, the boys burying the little lady next to Renfro Hall where her grave is marked with a beautiful headstone.

TUB-BEATER

Howard, in 1944 was blessed with "the best football team that ever had the good fortune of wearing Bulldog moleskins." Anyone who read the local papers, The Birmingham Age-Herald-News in particular, was inclined so to believe, what with the great job of so-called "tub-beating" Wendell Givens, ex of this great institution, did for the boys. It got so bad (really it was good), that one was forced to look in the lineups and summary an account of a Howard football game to find who actually won the game. No matter what the score "the Bulldogs had the situation well under control." Nice going Wendell.

DEAN DALE

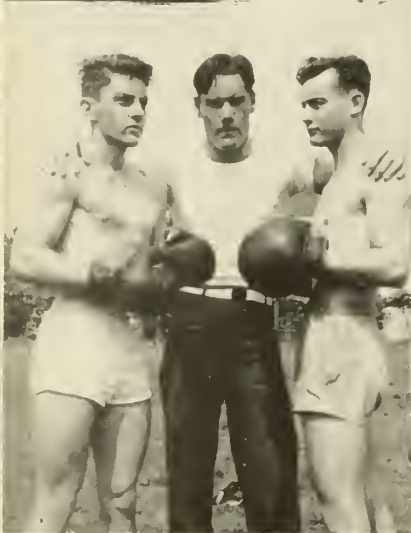

INTRA

No intramural football was played, but the girls covered the break between football and basketball season nicely with a hotly-contested volleyball tournament. No team in the seven-team league went through the campaign unbeaten, but the end of season's play found the athletic Phi Mus out in front. The title was taken with a grain of salt by the Phi Mus, and well might it have been as it was just another trophy to put on an already crowded mantel-piece.

Came basketball season, every quintet in the six-team all-Navy intramural basketball league took a sound beating except the Second Platoon, Company Two, which swept to five straight triumphs and the first-half championship. The Second Platooners, Smith Hall inhabitants, incidentally, had a record reading as follows: Wins over—Second Platoon, Co. 1 (20-16), Third Platoon, Co. 1 (10-6), First Platoon, Co. 1 (8-7), Third Platoon, Co. 2 (17-16) and First Platoon, Co. 2 (19-17).

In the second-half intramural cage playoff, Roy Bates' Third Platoon, Co. 1 copped the championship, going through a double-elimination tournament undefeated, knocking off First Platoon, Co. 2 in the finals, 28-25, for the title. Third platooners breezed through, winners over: the Preachers, 27-14, Third Platoon, Co. 2, 25-18, Second Platoon, Co. 1, 33-20 and First Platoon, Co. 2. Another civilian team known as the Campus Cutups failed to last long in the tourney, being defeated in its first and only two tournament frays. Charles Litsey, Bill Jenkins, Julian Davidson, Bill Adams and Wendell Givens were the only civilians other than the Preachers who lifted a finger in intramural cage play.

Howard's intramural sports program for 1944 and early 1945 was carried out with more enthusiasm and by more active participants than by any such activity in many a moon—more than a month of Sundays, to say the least. For the boys, softball and basketball held the spotlight, while the girls dabbled—but definitely—in two hot sessions of volleyball and basketball.

The boys softball league, made up of six Navy teams—the civilians “faked out”—was marked in particular by the friendly, but nevertheless, hard-fought rivalry between platoons quartered in Renfroe and Smith Halls. What with the league boasting no team which held the upper hand, the teams went about the merry task of popping one another with regularity. As a result, there was a three-way photo-finish at the end of regular league play, thus necessitating a playoff.

It was Ed Riley's outfit which finally emerged the winner, sweeping a 7-3 decision from Elmer Barnes' bozos after the latter had bumped off Roy Bates' crew in the playoff.

The Purples of Sewanee were invited to play Howard's Intramural All-Stars. Twice before Sewanee had triumphed and this time was no exception as the Sewanee crew knocked out a 5-3 triumph.

Sensation, latest addition to the Duration, Inflation, Ration & Co. clan proved the sensation of the girls basketball race, whisking through the season undefeated and at no time in danger of being defeated. The only defeat registered against the team was when it ventured into the “outside world” and fell to a Birmingham Business College combine. Pli Mu again proved the class along Sorority row, and the Town Girls proved one of the stronger contenders in the race for loop honors.

One of the most interesting pugilistic exhibitions yet seen at Howard was put on by the members of the V-12 Unit. The boys went through several weeks of tough training before the preliminaries that were held in Causey Gym. The winners of the first bouts slugged it out in the finals at Roebuck Country Club a week later. The winners were Les McLeod, Rudy York, Jack Baker, Rex Kalins, Bill Bailey, Clyde Jackson and J. B. Davis. Others in the Boxing team are Kid McCoy, Chauncey Erickson, Bob Kyle, M. L. Scappini, John Pickering, Bob Osborn, Bill Reaves, Hart, and Shaffield.

BASKETBALL TEAM

Howard fielded two basketball teams in 1945 for the first time since 1941, the Varsity romping a ten-game schedule in the Boys Club undefeated to win that league's championship, and the Bees tying Palmerdale for the championship in the Birmingham Park and Recreation Board's Willow Wood circuit.

PLAYERS

Big Jim Ray was the offensive spark of the varsity, the towering center pouring through nearly 200 points during the season. On two occasions he set scoring marks at the Boys Club, tallying 27 points for one record and following up with 33 a few weeks later to erase that mark.

Paul Godwin, Emery Lowry and Jack Moran alternated as starting forwards for the Bulldog varsity, Godwin's scoring performance being second to big Junior Ray's. Lowry, before hurting his knee, furnished plenty of points for Howard quint, and Moran, a keen little cager in his own right, augmented the scoring when Lowry fell down.

E. J. Riley and Ray Kiker were usually the starting guards, both being exceptionally well versed in the art of ball-hawking. Riley, in particular, was a hard man to get around, and Kyker was the gamest man on the court in every Howard game.

The Bulldogs were beaten only once prior to two post-season tournaments falling to Stockham Pipers, 42-36, one February eve when the Pipers sank 20 gift shots. Participating in the Southeastern A. A. U. meet, Howard bowed in the first round to Smyrna Air Base, 63-48.

Players who gave the starting five plenty of support were Carroll Blackerby, the Bessemer flash, Jack (Sleepy) Cooke, A. M. Romeo, the people's cherce, Don Swagart, straight from the fleet, John Pastis, best liked man on the team, and Howard Baker, a cracker-jack center on anybody's team. Bill Alderson took up where he left off in football in assuming managerial duties of the basketball team.

SOFTBALL TEAM

These lads proved to be tops when it came to playing softball—even if they did lose to Sewanee. From the left, (first row) U. G. Carter, D. H. Irwin, Frank Joffrion, Doug Feagan, (second row) Roy Bates, Guy Elmore, E. S. Childers, Paul Connair, R. G. Roberts, Elmer Barnes, R. C. McCain, C. R. Edwards, N. B. Newman and D. B. Eblen.

The NAVY HYMN

Eternal Father, strong to save,
Whose arm doth bind the restless wave,
Who bidd'st the mighty ocean deep,
Its own appointed limits keep,
Oh hear us when we cry to thee
For those in peril on the sea.

Lord, guard and guide the men who fly
Through all great spaces of the sky,
Be with them traversing the air,
In darkning storms and sunlight fair,
Oh hear us when we lift our prayer
For those in peril in the air.

Oh Trinity of love and power,
Our brethren shield in dangers hour,
From rock and tempest, fire and foe,
Protect them whereso-ere they go,
Thus ever let there rise to thee
Glad hymns of praise from air and sea.

Spatula is one of the newest clubs on the campus. It was organized last fall to form a membership in the National Pharmacy Sorority, Kappa Epsilon.

The goal of Spatula is to promote professional fellowship and to unify its members in their broadest interpretation.

Scholarship, Character and sincere interest in Pharmacy are the basis of its membership. Outstanding speakers and frequent informal get-togethers make its meetings popular. Mrs. Richards, wife of the Dean of Pharmacy and a feminine "pill-roller" at heart, is faculty advisor for Spatula.

If there is any one organization which claims for its membership the geniuses on the campus, it is Chi Alpha Sigma, honorary fraternity for Chemistry majors.

For obvious reasons, the members of this organization are few in number—but "the people's choice" for among them may be your Madame Curie or your John Xan of tomorrow.

Alpha Epsilon Delta is the honorary pre-medical fraternity on the campus. It has as its purposes to encourage excellence in pre-medical work by furnishing a goal toward which the student may strive during the early semesters of his or her pre-medical career, to bind together similarly interested students, to act as a force in crystalizing any movement for the good of the pre-medical student, and to bridge the gap between the spirit of the pre-medical school and that of the school of medicine.

The first chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta was formed at the University of Alabama in 1926, and the second chapter, the Alabama Beta, was organized at Howard in 1928.

During the year Alpha Epsilon Delta held several open meetings with prominent Birmingham doctors as speakers. The annual banquet was held June 1, at the Tutwiler Hotel.

The purpose of Alpha Phi Omega, National Service fraternity, is to "assemble college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop friendship and to promote service to humanity". The four fields of activity in which the services are delivered are: Student body and faculty, youth and community, members of the fraternity, and the nation as participating citizens. Alpha Phi Omega has a unique place to fill and if true to its colors and if it reduplicates its past, it shall fill it well.

Chi Delta Phi, national honorary literary sorority is dedicated to the promotion of interest in writing on the campus.

During the past year the members, who are required to submit an original manuscript to a board of judges before being elected to membership, held many informal meetings for the purpose of reading and discussing the merits of their various writing attempts.

It is the opinion of the members of Chi Delta Phi that the fullest advancement in writing is achieved through suggestions and criticism.

Trips to Shangri-la, riding the old mill wheel, visiting interesting Birmingham night scenes, a new constitution and initiation service, the largest group of Naval and civilian students—these are a few of the headliners in this year's history of the "pavement pounders," better known as the Pi Kappa Theta members.

A journalistic group, they are the students who find the news—or better still, the ones who make the news. A potpourri if there ever was one, there's never a dull moment with the Pi Kappa Thetas.

These girls are not banded together for airing narrow minded views on piety and social conditions, but meet together to try in an organized way to put their christianity in practice. This year they have been very active under the leadership of Margaret Montgomery, starting work at the Juvenile court, and keeping up a mission. The group is made up of girls who have volunteered their services to the Lord in various fields of work.

WHO'S WHO In American Universities and Colleges

Howard has eleven highly honored students this year—those whose biographies are to appear in the annual publication, "Who's Who In American Universities and Colleges".

Being named in "Who's Who" is more than an honor, some of the students have discovered recently. The organization which sponsors the book, will make an active effort to help students find occupation in the position which they most desire.

Latest work of the group is the planning list which purports to aid returning war veterans in occupational readjustment and situation. Students elected to "Who's Who" chosen by a special faculty committee were as follows: Page Kelley, Nelson Duke, Louise Hardin, Miriam Gann, Frances Young, Virginia Ingram, Eyra Dell Petrea, Paul Sanderson, Billy Adams, Mildred Blankenship, and Nell Brown

HYPATIA

Yellow roses on a May morning are a traditional sight at Howard College. Hypatia, highest honor society for women on the East Lake Campus holds the annual tapping services in front of Main Building the first Wednesday in May.

As a girl who exemplifies the highest qualities of Hypatia is tapped, a corsage of yellow roses is placed on her shoulder, signifying that she meets the requirements of the group—scholarship, leadership, character and promise of future usefulness.

A girl who has been elected a member of this organization has received the highest honor which her classmates can bestow upon her. She is looked up to as an example of an ideal Howard College co-ed and is expected to do her life's work to the best of her ability, whether it be that of a doctor, a newspaper woman, a teacher or a housewife.

Trident, the highest honor society for men on the campus, taps men from the junior class who meet its standards in the three fields of scholarship, leadership, and esteem of students and faculty.

One of the unforgettable thrills enjoyed by the entire student body is experienced during the impressive tapping ceremony when Trident taps an unsuspecting man in the audience. This year, under the accelerated program, Trident tapped twice. In the fall tapping, seven men, including two seamen, were added to Trident.

Our ALMA MATER

Oh, Howard, Alma Mater true,
I love thy glorious name, deserving every honor due
To an unsullied fame.
I'll love thee through each fleeting breath
For all that thou has done,
And in the agonies of death
Be still thy loving son.

Oh, Alma Mater, dear, thy life
A treasure is to me:
Thou, Phoenix fair, through flames and strife,
Hast shown thy right to be.
Since poverty has made thee rich
And struggle made thee strong,
I view thee in thy self-made niche,
And burst to filial song.

Oh, parent true, the future fair
Must hold but good for thee,
For hope's fruition waits thee there
In blest reality.
And sons like thine will make thee shine
With glory all thine own,
And bring to thy maternal shrine
Not gifts of gold alone.

And Now We Know

"there can no great smoke arise but there must be some fire, no great report without great suspicion. Frame, therefore, your lives to such integrity, your studies to the attaining of such perfection, that neither the malice of the strong, neither the malice of the weak, neither the swift reports of the ignorant be able to spot you with dishonesty or note you of ungodliness. The greatest harm that you can do unto the envious, is to do well; the greatest corasive that you can give unto the ignorant is to prosper in knowledge; the greatest comfort that you can bestow on your parents is to live well, and learn well; the greatest commodity that you can yield unto your country is with wisdom to bestow that talent that by grace was given you. . ."

SENIOR CLASS

FORREST HICKS, LOYD MOON, WILMA AWBREY, TWINK WELLS

The JUNIORS

OFFICERS

President	FOREST HICKS
Vice-President	LOYD MOON
Secretary	WILMA AWBREY
Treasurer	TWINK WELLS
Senators	KATHRYN DAVIDSON, JOHN BOB RIDDLE, DOROTHY WARREN

We are the juniors. We are that undistinguished group of individuals who enjoy neither the expectation with which freshmen are watched, nor the dignity which is accorded to the seniors. What we are going to be and do in College is already pretty well established. We hold surprises for the faculty or the student body.

But as for ourselves, we feel little of this sureness, for we have reached the doubtful stage. We watch with wonder the positiveness with which the seniors pursue their chosen occupations; and some of us wonder, fleetingly, if we have been following the correct course for our future. We view the congested business world with misgiving and timidly wonder if there is not another profession in which there would not be so much competition. Cowardly? Not at all, we merely realize our deficiencies and determine that we shall try harder to remove them in the future.

We have no delusions of grandeur, we are sure that few, if any, of us will attain excellence. But for that small percentage, we have high hopes. We are proud of the part that our class is playing in the student body. We gravely realize that the time is not long before we shall be launched into the business world. Our adolescent happy-go-lucky attitude is outgrown but we are near enough to it to realize and get the fullest measure from our college days.

So, keep your eye on us, the class of '46!

It's Yours, Sophomores, For the Taking . . .

"To be at home in all lands and ages; to count nature a familiar acquaintance and art an intimate friend; to gain a standard for the appreciation of other men's work and the criticism of your own; to carry the keys of the world's library in your pocket, and feel its resources behind you in whatever you undertake; to make hosts of friends among the people of your own age who are to be leaders in all walks of life; to lose yourself in generous enthusiasms and cooperate with others for common ends—this is the offer of the college for the best four years of your life."

ER DIVISION . .

Listen, Frosh, To Words of Wisdom . . .

Then said a weary man to him, Speak to us of repose. . . The prophet's lips formed a half smile as he said, There is no repose except that which is an incident of work.

Work shall be the fervent kiss of life upon you. And the echoing whisper of a sigh within you is repose.

Repose is not the end of work. It is only an interval, as the deer pauses in its flight, then forward bursts with sure and sudden speed.

Repose is not the goal of work but a proof of work. Before the stream may become calm and peaceful, it must hew its way through the mountain, cutting through the rocks and rushing with wild energy across the barriers.

Repose is a reward of comfort but let not your work be for comfort's sake. Rather let the sweetness of repose fall about you unexpectedly—as a caterpillar spins and spins, knowing not why it spins, and becomes the butterfly of beauty.

If you would have true repose, then at sunrise leave all thoughts of it behind you in your zest for work. And when night falls you will find it waiting.

SWAN SONG

Renfro Hall has seen a constant stream of blue in winter, and white in summer since the Navy came to Howard in July, 1943. Quite a contrast from the gay variety of colors it had seen pass through the hallways in days when civilians called Renfro their home.

In later years, in distant places, those V-12er's who lived here will have many fond memories to look back upon. . . There was the common room, where, gathered around the battered piano, they would sing their favorite songs or listen in silent rapture to the boogie of some solid sender. . . There were the screams of terror which echoed throughout the building as some brave soul tried to take an ice-cold shower (was there another kind?). . . The cries of "Chief's aboard, hit the deck," or, "Chief's ashore, back to the sack," will long be with us, as will the remembrance of those frosty mornings in winter, when, after having prayed earnestly for rain the night before, we awoke to the horrible, grating noise of reveille to find a clear blue sky above and calisthenics waiting just outside. . . There were field days, with the swabbing, sweeping, dusting, washing, and waxing which made the building fairly shine with cleanliness. . . And then the games of bridge in the "study" room, where some of the weirdest combinations of bidding and playing, stuff that would have made even Culberson admit that all was lost, were brought to the fore by the ingenious, inventive trainee. . . Nor must we forget that the guarded realms of chow hall and kitchen are contained in Renfro. For three brief periods each day, this section of the building would ring with sounds of clattering silverware and pleasant laughter; then silence through another night. . . The telephones were never still, but rang incessantly from morn till night as harried J. O. D.'s attempted to remember just who was to call whom and when, and where. . . But happiest of all memories was that most peaceful, most comforting feeling of lying, stretched out, upon the bunk, perhaps a bit of moonlight shining through the darkened rooms, as slowly, sweetly, came the notes of taps, which twined around one's thoughts of home and friends and far-off lands. . .

La Fin . . .

Yes, victory in Japan has brought us that goal for which we have strived so long—the end of this era of destruction. There is great tumult, confusion, and excitement in our minds and heart as we anxiously stand on the threshold of a new world. Also in our hearts there is a quiet serenity because we know that even as Howard has held her own in a war torn world, she is at her best in the business of EDUCATION FOR LIFE.

OUR DEEPEST THANKS and appreciation to you who have been so indispensable to the publication of this book—Mr. Faerber of the Alabama Engraving Co.; Mr. Fleming, president of the Birmingham Printing Co.; Mr. Missildine of Birmingham Printing Co.; Lt. Postle and Lt. Crossley for the very best of cooperation from the Naval Unit and for serving as judges of the Beauty Parade; Mr. Falkenberg of the Alabama Theatre, Miss Lily Mae Caldwell and Mr. Townsend, both of the News for their assistance with the Beauty Parade; Mr. Lent Brewster, our very indispensable financial advisor; and Mr. John Baker, Faculty Advisor.

Among our student supporters whom we could not leave out of our "Thank You" list are A/S Hank Beebe and Jimmy DeSana for their assistance with the Beauty Parade; Louise Hardin and Miriam Gann for assistance with publicity.

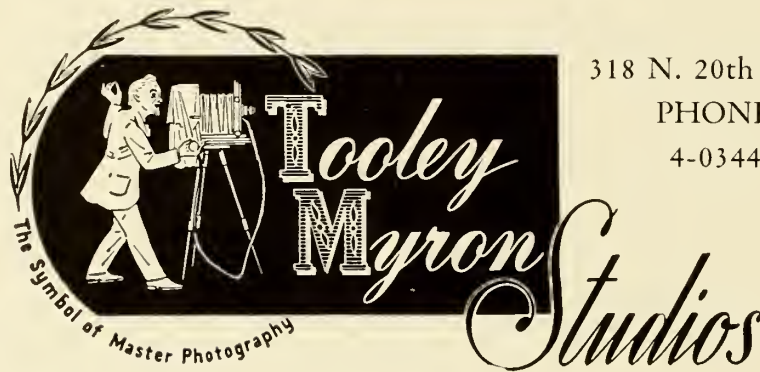

And perhaps we can best show our appreciation to those others whom we have not yet mentioned by patronizing. . .
